It is not required that exam candidates complete the corresponding Training Course for each competency before attempting the certification exam, nor is it required for training participants to take the exams after completing a competency-based Training Course. Candidates with sufficient practical experience using K2 should be able to pass each competency exam without attending the corresponding Training Course for that competency.

To achieve certification, candidates are required to pass a 40-60 question online exam within one hour. Exams may not be paused and candidates will need to accept the Terms and Conditions for each exam before they may attempt the exam.

Upon passing of the exam, candidates will receive a certificate of competency and permission to use the competency icon in their professional profiles.

Exams are priced at one K2 Services Credit per attempt (non-refundable for failed attempts).
